A CHANCE FOR A "MAYOR."—Dear Mr. Tribuse. I learn that a gentleman advertises in the Times for a wife. Now that the disancial panic is beginning to subside a little, and one half of the political world of Chicago are holding their breath to see what the little great man may do, and the other half watching the great little man foundering in muddy water, anxious to see which way he will jump, it is highly proper that matrimonial schemes should occupy a portion of the attention of the public.

As I do not like the Times, and rarely see the paper, I prefer, with your permission, to ap-ply through you paper for the enviable position the gentleman condescends to offer to the locky one he may choose from the ladies of this member anything so unimportant. My nearest re-lation, (a spiteful old maid,) says I am past twenty, but it is only fair to suppose that the man with a "preposessing appearance," only "twenty-three," with "fifteen thousand a year," who finds himself iged to advertise for a wife must be in posse of some serious drawback that he is not willing to acknowledge. Now I am disposed to surrender my age as an offset to that, whatever it may be. I am naturally backward in speaking of myself, but I ought perhaps to add, that I am of a domestic turn, fond of order and a quiet home; and as the sub-ject of "Crinoline," next to the "hard times," is the all absorbing topic of the day, I desire to have it distinctly understood that my views on that sub-

STED.—Our readers will doubtless remember some seks ago an account in the TRIBUNE of letter written from this city, purporting to be signed by Matthew Usber, and directed to the officers of difgame was attempted upon the Bank of Quincy. We learn from the Herald of that city, that a person supposed to be the writer of these letters has been who had been warehing for the gentleman some weeks. After he was arrested he gave his name as walls, and stated that he was on his way to Kentucky, and had been living at Tonessee, in DcDonough county: and that in coming through Colchester, on his way here, he was saked by a stranger to get the letters out and send them up to him either by meil or priviate conveyance. He also stated the reason for not waiting for the others was that he had a cook stove to buy and send up the railroad, but afterwards stated that he had but $12, which was a small sum to buy a stove and take him to Kontucky. His trial was postponed till to-day at two o'clock P. M. There is no doubt but that this man is Usher, or an accomplice in this new mode of extortios. THE POOR-A SPECIMEN OF THEM-THE RELIEF

Society.—How many of us forget, while at our obserful firesides, that there are those around us oncerns aroundes, that there are those around us whe require a portion of our time and attention. Al-though the reign of the key monster has been very element for the last fortnight (usually so terrible to the poor) although food and fuel are abundant—1857 being noted for its abundant harvests, and our coal number of abjectly poor persons are in all our cities, and it is easy to find many in this city even, in the narrow lanes and alleys and out-of-the-way streets, narrow lanes and alleys and out-of-the-way streets, from whom not only the blessings of comfort have been withheld, but even the necessities of life. We interrogated a poor, half-clad German woman Saturday, three score and ten years old, in regard to her wants, and following her to the small house, two rooms of which were occupied by her family of eight persons in a wretched neighborhood on Buffalo street, below Twelfth, we saw some of the natural realities of hunger-bitten infants, deerent painful realities of hunger-bitten infants, decrepinge, as well as able-bodied manhood without employment—hungry, starving, freezing poor. Not aparticle of food or fuel was in the house, (except a bundle of victuals taken there in our arms) and little of anything else. An infant lay on the only bed, its young mother by its side—two orphan you ngters relatives, hid in an adjoining room, the husband or

And his prayer was heard. After furnaming some necessary food, we went to 238 Handolph street, near the bridge, where stands good Mr. Kent, the experienced agent of the Relief Society. Here, truly, the dispensation of public charity is systematized. Here was a crowd, inside of the house and out, of abject, needy poor, as well as some vicious cheats and undeserving. The good were being sifted from the bad. Several active philanthropists were

Washington, Dec. 9.—It is stated in confidented circles that the Democratic delegation from Indiana have had an interview with President Buchanan, in the course of which they said that, on full consultation, they could not support the Lecompton Convention after the explac of Senator Douglas.

Correspondence of the Tribuns; Speaket Orrina changed his programme in part. Mr. Clingman will probably be chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Mr. J. Glazey Jones of the Committee on Ways and Means, Cochrane and Kelly, of New York, are to be well placed. Perhaps the former will be at the head of the Committee on Commerce.

The statement that the Treasury had actually suspended payment is not sustained. The Secretary directed the requisition of the disbursing officers to lie over till the advances already made were exhausted. This became necessary from the straitened condition of his means.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Dispatches were yesterday received at the War Department from Col. Johnson, of the Utah Expedition, dated Col. Johnson, of the Utah Expedition, dated South Pass, October 18th, conveying intelligence of the same tenor as that received via Port Laramie. The greatest exertion was being made to form a junction of the different branches of the expedition prior to going into winter quarters, but serious delay was experienced by the cold weather.

Col. McGraw, of the South Pass wagon road expedition, has tendered a number of men, 15 good teams, mules, and wagons, which have been accepted, and would be of great service in the emergency. Several of the supply trains were yet behind, with provisions and clothing, of which the advance were greatly in need. Col. Johnson intends to form a junction with Col. Alexander, at the mouth of the Fontenelle Creek, about thirty miles from that officer's present camp at Ham's Fork, and not far from seventy miles from his own camp at South Pass. He will winter at Henry's Fork, on Green river, seventy miles from his own camp at South Pass. He will winter at Henry's Fork, on Green river, where he hopes that Col. Cook's command—with whom is Gov. Cumming—will join him. Col. J. thinks his force barely adequate to the protection of supply trains, and predicts that the contest will be a protracted one, unless large reinforcements be sent him. He speaks of the impossibility of his making a retrogade movement.

The South Down on Douglas! The crime for which Stanton was beheaded, as I have telegraphed to the Tribuss last night, was admitted on the floor of the Senate to be the calling of a Session of the Territorial Legislature of Kanssa. The fact of his having done so was communicated to the Admitstra. e so was communicated to the Administra i yesterday, by a telegraph from St. Louis by a Mr. Martin, who had been despatched

SPY SYSTEM OF BUCHANAN.

Ricky official is suddenly taken off, like that of Mr. Stanton.

A noticeable fact, the significance of which is very obvious, was a remark that fell from Senator Mason. It was urged by the Administration Senators that there was a necessity that the nomination of Denver should be confirmed forthwith, as otherwise there would be an interregnum in the Territory. There would be no Governor. They were reminded that Gov. Walker was still in office, and that he probably would soon return to Kaimsa. Mr. Mason replied that the moment Gov. Walker began to iurn his footsteps toward Kansas he would undergo the fate of Mr. Stanton.

It is probable, from this initimation, that the President will not wait for Walker to begin his journey in the direction of that Territory so fatal to Governors. He will, doubtless, soon be removed.

fatal to Governors. He will, doubtless, soon be removed.

The truth can no longer be disguised, that Mr. Buchanan has thrown himself entirely into the hands of the South. The country may be prepared to expect henceforth a decided, thorough-going Pro-Slavery policy.

The Administration papers, The Ster and The State, assail Mr. Douglas, this evening, as a renegade from the Democratic party. The Democrats here generally give him up as lost to them. A Senator, in conversation yesterday, expressed surprise that Mr. Douglas should have turned against the South, which had so long considered him as their property.

'It surprises me," said Senator Wade, "because I never expected to see a slave insurrection."

cause I never expected to see a slave insurrection."

A question was raised whether Stanton was actually removed by any other act than by the message and to the Senate, which, it was contended, did not effect it, as in the last Congress a successor was nominated, vice Judge Lecompte removed, yet the latter was retained by the non-action of the Senate.

Douglas has emphasised his speech yesterday, by giving notice that he will introduce an enabling act for a Convention in Kaneas. Stanton's ritenda sasign as a reason for convening the Territorial Legislature, the apprehension that the Topeks Government might be put in notion, and thus involve the danger of a collision with the Federal authorities.

It is understood that Wendell is to supervise the printing and chare the proceeds, so that the contest only meant a larger or smaller distribution of the spoils.

Office suckers are patriotically indignant at Douglas' opposition, and denounce him as worse than a Requision. The President is much exercised also, and told a gentleman yesterday that he would determinate on his appointment next week, unless demolfshed by Douglas.

New York, Dec. 12.—The famous case of Marvine against Wood, Mayor of New York, was decided to-day in the Superior Court, before Judge Woodruff, Sivery point is decided against the defendant.

A special dispatch from Lecompton, Dec. 1st, to the Tribune, says that it is the new Territorial Legislature which has been convened by Secretary Stanton. He had been informed that the Convention would otherwise take stops that might result in civil war. A paper signed by a majority of both branches of the Legislature and five or six prominent Free State men were presented to:

country will certainly sostain him, for if this abomination can be forced upon the people of a Territory, there is an end of Democracy and Republicanism throughout the Union, and the sooner we adopt the form of a central monarchical tyranny the better. For it is better to be oppressed under a system whose principles are honestly admitted, than under one which professes respect for popular rights.

I am giad to learn that Gov. Walker proposes a speedy return to Kansas, for upon his presence there depends, perhaps, the peaceful continuance of the Territorial Government, the suppression of which is threatened by Sultan Calhoun and his handful of incendiaries.

At a spiritual circle in — street recently, use members observed that the hands of the beautiful witch were luminous. In a moment after they burst into a blaze! With a shrick and a rush from the table, she bounded into another room and plyinged them into water. Still suffering from the intensity of the pain, she ran out of doors and forced them into the moist earth, in which position she remained for some time. It is needless to add she remained for some time. It is also that her hands were pretty well blistered. The evening following, the lady at whose house this occurred, happening to stand near the spot where the medium's hands had the night previous been thrust into the ground, saw a surprising luminosity still into the ground, saw a surprising luminosity still-manifesting itself at that spot. Further investiga-tion revealed an abundance of phosphorus in small particles, which were accordingly collected and bottled. The lights were then put out, and the medium's hands placed in the earth. Immediately her hands became phosphorescent as before, and the earth was filled with particles of phosphorus, actually condensed from the drippings or exadings of the indy's fingers! In justice to her I should have stated that two respectable ladies first took the medium from a warm buth, dressed her and led her into the room where the committee were in waiting, and that all tire wing of the Capitol viewed from the out-side, has a striking effect upon the beholder, and as a specimen of the everlasting in buildand as a specimen of the ever-assign bulleting it is not to be surpassed. Inside, the chief places of attraction are the Committee Rooms, in which more taste and less elaborate gliding have been displayed. Some of these are unapproachable anywhere in this country. The sceptical circles I believe are now repentant, and feel confident that a new series of appritual phenomena has just begun. Henceforth no miracle need gagger the faith of spiritualists. It is thought by some that if a sufficient number of mediums to "harmonize." the therein. The Senate Chamber is a year behind its more popular fellow.

The cause of the National Hotel disease of last March has been explained satisfactorily. The house was shut up and abandoned early in the spring; but in September three New Hamp shire yankees came on and hired it, and set about its renovation. Their first work was in the cellar, which is of enormous size; and here they found decaying and poisorous matter enough of all sorts to have killed an army of men, if subject to its exhalation. There were removed from this part of the house alone, sixty-seven cart loads of putrid stuff; and when it is said that a part of this consisted of the contents of the privy vaults which had overflowed in the cellar from choked up drains, and that the remainder was the refuse of the kitchen limit party,—all in the most offensive condition—no one will be surprised that the National could be got together so as to "harmonize," the effect would be like increasing the cups of a galvan-ic battery, and mighty wonders would show themelves in the land. When mediums reach such a a pitch as to be able with their spiritual contri nces to materialize the imponderables cosphorus, what may not we expect?

LLINOIS AND PENNSYLVANIA IN THE SENATE

ner of Senator Dougles was bold, haughty, definant—the manner of a man who had deliberately assumed a perilous position, and had made up his mind to brave the consequences. His closing declaration, given with great energy, that if the administration and the Democratic party persisted in the course they were now pursuing upon the Kansas question, he should be compelled by every sense of honor, good faith and consistency, to separate himself from them, was greeted by a round of apphase from the crowded galleries.

Senator Mason of Virginia, who was evidently much disgusted by the speech of Mr. Douglas, moved that the galleries be cleared if the applaanse was persisted in. After much persuasion, Mr. Mason withdrew his motion.

Although every Senator in the chamber must have felt that Mr. Douglas's speech was unanswerable, one or two of the Administration men undertook to parry a few of his blows.—Mr. Bigler of Penn., who is understood to speak for the President, begun by admitting the force of the argument, and of the considerations urged by the Senator from Illinois in favor of submitting the whole Constitution to the vote of the people; but thought it sufficient answer to thom to state the fact that the feelings and opinions of the majority of the proper in the peaceful and fair election would be held. He ventured also to taunt Mr. Douglas with inconsistency.

The Little Giant turned upon him with the consistency.

The Little Giant turned upon him with the mein of a lion who has received an insult from an inferior quadruple, and speedily, brought the Senator from Pennsylvania to a highly deferential attitude.

The contest between them was almost painful to behold. It was the spectacle of a weak man struggling unavailingly in the grasp of a strong man.

In the course of the debate Mr. Bigler alluded to a private conference of Democratic Senators a year or two ago at the house of Mr. Donglas at which it was determined by them, that for certain considerations the Kansas Constitution, when framed, should not be submitted to the popular vote. He insignated, rather than when framed, should not be submitted to the popular vote. He insimated, rather than charged, that the Senator from Illinois, influenced by the aforesaid "certain considerations," had assented to the agreement that the Constitution should not be submitted to the people.

Mr. Douglas haughtily and peremptorily denied it. Mr. Bigler hesitated. At this moment, Mr. Hale of New Hampshire, who, ilke the est of the Republican Senators, had watched with silent interest, the progress of the fight, rose, and, in his blandest and most insimusting manner, addressed the Pennsylvania Senator,

Mr. Bigler innocently professed his readiness to afford any explanation in his power.

"I wish to know," said Mr. Hale, "merely for the sake of information, of course, what was the exact nature of those "considerations" to which the Senator so delicately and mysteriously refers as influencing the Democratic Senators in the matter of submitting the Constitution of Kansas to the popular yote."

yote."
In spite of the grave mood into which they had been thrown by Mr. Douglas's speech, even the Democratic Senators could not refrain from laughing at the embarrassment into which this question threw Mr. Bigler.

After some hesitation he recovered presence of mind enough to reply that the considerations in question were the condition and circumstances of Kansas at the time.

Mr. Hale did not press his inquiry. It would have been unkind to have done so.

The scene presented in the Senaic chamber to-day was intensely exciting. The galleries were crowded with indies, and the lobbies with members of the Lower House, foreign ministers and distinguished strangers. The British ministers were posted near to and immediately behind Judge Doughs during his speech. Lord Napier watched the proceedings with the greatest interest, it being his first opportunity of hearing a debate in the American Congress.

On the one side were crowded the Black Republicans, prominent among whom was Chevalier Webb, all delighted with the speech of Senator Douglas, and looking on as if witnessing a trial of Mr. Buchanan. On the opposite side pressed the Democrats of both Houses, to wisness the political execution of the Little Giant, as he stepped forth boldly to become his own executioner. As the speaker proceeded, the crowd indulged in various comments. One would approve a sentiment, and remark that "Douglas is now wish us Black Republicans." Another would reply, "Let him rip the negro worshippers want a leader." The Southern friends of the Senator were distressed at the meetatele.

(Special Digatch to the N. Y. Threes.)

Washington, Wednesday, Dec. 9.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the nomination of Gen. Denver, new Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to be the Secretary of Kansas Territory—thus removing Mr. Stanton. The reason given therefor, is the fact that Stanton has convened the Territorial Legislature on the 7th of December, in consequence of the failure of the Constitutional Convention to embulit the antire Constitution entirely to the people. THE REMOVAL OF SECRETARY STANTON.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribue.]

The President received a dispatch last night announcing that Secretary Stanton had summoned the Kansas Legislature to meet on Monday last, and sent a message to the Senate today removing him, and appointing Mr. Denver, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to the vacancy. He sasigna as a reason for this that the movement conflicted with his policy.—Instructions had been sent to Secretary Stanton not to convene the Legislature. Denver went to Kansas a few days ago on indian business and his appointment is temporary, intended to provide for any exigency that may arise. The somilation was laid over to-day on motion of Sonator Bell. This new phase of affairs gives the President much concern, and may impartant unexpected shape to the whale question.

"fight," and the defeat of Douglas.]

General Denver left the city a week ago, ostensibly for Ohio, in consequence of the illness of a friend. It seems that the sufferer was Kansas, and that Denver really was sent there by the President to influence the election of the 21st and induce the rejection of the Pro-Slavery clause of the Constitution. His appointment as Secretary cannot prevent the meeting of the Legislature or check its proceedings. The legislature are check its proceedings. The legislature leaders are pledged only to take slops to repudiate the late Convention, by repealing the act authorizing it, and providing for a new Convention—possibly with specific instructions to submit their work to the people. The effect of this is expected to be that the election of the 21st will be made a nullity, and that the President will never get the Lecompton Constitution to send to Congress. amend Ear-Drops, Diam and Crosses and Studs. Of these, by, aniport's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy, stands first and premout among the remedies of the day that can be relied in, as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its pro-siders. It advertiges itself on very trial—for there are of orbits of small eccentricities in the asteroid region, believed by Mr. Vaughan and other eminen bodies originated in the destruction of a primitive planet by centrifugal force; and neither this, nor who use it but tell their triends to do so, and so it goes more who use it but tell their iriends to do so, and so it goes room mouth to mouth, till all, the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicins. It is re-sommended, with lestimonists to prove its vivine, for the cure of Layer Compilaints of every bind, from the worst Dyapepats to a common Headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Compilaints and Diseases of Children. (See advertisement.) the hypothesis of Olbers, can account for the great inclinations to the ellptic of the orbits of Pallas Euphrosyne, Phoven, Hebe and Egeria. It is argued that, had the asteroids been produced by th struction of a single world, the elipses which they describe should exhibit the greatest discrepan-cy in size and eccentricity, and should intersect the A good article will always triumph over any presented imitation. It has been said that every article appear, expalie of doing all that is premised for and it will stand the test of any opposition dependent up injusted inderloy; and Heatetter's famed Stomach Bits bear evidence of this, for it has been taken hold of by the pe ple and tries, and not found wanting in curing any once Dyappeis, to any form. When these facts are known, which is a present of the property of the property of the period of the property of the period o NEGATIVE ARTESIAN WELLS.—The London Socisty of Art have published a paper by M. Bruck-mann, on. "Negative Artesian Wells," that is, wells which take instead of give out water. Such wells which take instead of give one water sunk in loose serve as permanent drains; they are sunk in loose strata, or where communications exist with fathom-less flasures or with deep lying streams. M. Bruck-mann, who is a native of Wurtemberg, states that HAIR DYE-HAIR DYE-HAIR DYE-BATCHthey may be established in all the so-called nor or sediment formation,—diluvium, tertiary depos and others,—and he brings forward examples of the benefits that have followed the sinking of negative wells in town or in swampy country districts. The drainage becomes at once perfect and constant; and fluid matters of all kinds find their way to the outh, and flow away, while solid matters may be Woodland Cream?—A Pomade for beautimanner as to attain equal strength with a great impushed weight. In large masses of malleab iron, procured in the ordinary way, by weldin together a number of the puddler's bloom, ther often occur small knobs and fragments of metals much harder than the rest; and many manufacturers consider soft iron quite as trying to their tools as hard steel, from the unexpected ircrease of resistance suddenly offered by particular parts of the mass, and the on-sequent unequal strain upon different portions of the machinery. The greater the mass required, the greater the difficulty of obtaining a metal apon all parts of which some religious can be placed and Proprietors of the "Balm of a Thomand Flowers."
